

JOB DESCRIPTION

Core PHP Developer

We are looking for a Core PHP Developer who is dedicated to the craft, writes code that they are proud of and can hit the ground running. PHP Developer will be responsible for managing back-end services and the interchange of data between the server and the users.

Primary Responsibilities:

- Should have expertise on PHP5 /should have good knowledge of OOPS
- Should have knowledge of Ajax and APIs integration ie. Google API, Facebook API, third party affiliates etc are highly desirable.
- Should have knowledge of expertise with interfaces, HTML, CSS, JavaScript, AJAX, Templating, caching, sessions, and authentication.
- Should have experienced with complex MYSQL queries
- Framework knowledge like Code Igniter, CakePhp , Zend etc/Knowledge of e-commerce website like Zen cart, Prestashop, Magento, Open Cart, Custom php, etc. (mandatory - 1 framework & 1 open source)
- Core/Custom php development is mandatory
- Analyze, design, code, debug, test and deploy changes to the system
- Researching and suggesting new technologies and opportunities that could be beneficial to the technological needs of the company.
- Collaborating with team members to advise and launch new site features and content that meet the expectations.
- Coordinating with senior management to create sustainable project management processes around the web design and development.

About the Company:

Logicsofts is a noted outsourcing company specializing in providing cutting-edge IT services to organizations that cater to varied industries. It is our goal to integrate our clients' business and help them to achieve their set targets by outsourcing their non-core technical and digital marketing business processes.